Cycling Event T-Shirts for Children Fighting Cancer

The Little Jason Childhood Cancer Foundation prepares T-shirts for the children at Rainbow and Cincinnati Children's Hospitals to match the official shirts worn by the riders.

The event, Cycling for Childhood Cancer, by the Little Jason Childhood Cancer Foundation (LJCCF), will kick off approximately at 8:00 a.m. on the morning of October 9th at Rainbow Babies and Children's Hospital in Cleveland Ohio. The cyclists participating in the event will be wearing an official shirt, which may be seen and purchased at the foundations products page, <http://littlejason.org/Products.html>.

Everybody is encouraged to purchase and wear a shirt to get involved and support the ride. The children at Rainbow Babies and Children's Hospital will each be presented with their own official event T-Shirts to match those worn by the cyclists. Wearing their T-shirts, the children will be given the opportunity to wave to the cyclists, cheering them on their way.

Upon arriving at Cincinnati two days later, the riders will present T-shirts to the children at Cincinnati Children's Hospital.

During the ride, the cyclists will maintain a blog, <http://littlejason.org/Blog.html>, which will be updated at various rest stops along the way. The blog will give the riders the opportunity to say, "Hi!" to the children and let them know they are pulling for them. The blog will also be updated with pictures/videos taken during the ride. Please bookmark our blog page and follow us as we cross the state of Ohio to bring relief to families and joy to their sick children as they do battle with cancer.
